FOREWORD

In times of peace and prosperity we are likely to place greatest emphasis on our individual problems. But it is different today. Our nation is at war in a righteous cause and the national welfare must take precedence over our ambitions.

Never before has our country expected so much of her youth. The students of McKinley High have willingly and wholeheartedly assumed the tremendous responsibility of serving their country.

Within the bounds of this book we have endeavored to portray the spirit put forth by all McKinleyites in their efforts to retain that life which is so loved by all Americans.

Niles McKinley High School Graduating Class of 1943, to you I extend sincere congratulations and best wishes. With face to the future and eyes on the stars may you succeed to high honor and respect.

S. J. BONHAM,
Superintendent of Niles Schools

To the Class of 1943:

I have enjoyed my associations with you. I have never been more sure that a class would meet its future responsibilities in its stride.

You are made of good stuff, class of '43. See to it that it is used to the advantage of all.

Sincerely,

ROBERT SHARP,

IN MEMORIAM

To school associates, pupils and friends, the passing of Miss Florence Ohl, Attendance Officer for Niles Schools for the past twenty years, was indeed a great sorrow.

Her close association with the pupils of our schools endeared her to both young and old. Although she has passed on, her memory will linger in the hearts of all who knew her, especially those who sought her advice.

In her years of service we felt confident that she had first and always the interest of the youth of Niles at heart and that her loyalty was sincere.

We, the class of 1943, pause in silent tribute to this person who faithfully served us in the past.

DEDICATION

In recognition of the untiring efforts as Sponsor of the Class of 1943, we whole-heartedly dedicate this year's Dragon to Paul Moritz. His willing advice and ceaseless work have greatly aided us in successfully completing our High School career. As a teacher, he has always been well liked, and as a class sponsor, he will never be forgotten.

CLASS POEM

Another year, another class,
Will soon say its goodbye,
To all the joys and sorrows here
At old McKinley High.

Its fame has spread both far and wide,
Its laurels are not few,
We're glad to say we've done our best
To pay the homage due.

Our high school toil will soon be o'er,
The prize we soon shall gain,
And others here will carry on
For we cannot remain.

So all shall part and go their way,
This class of '43,
But old McKinley will endure
Through all eternity.

—DALE GALBRAITH

STUDENT COUNCIL

School problems, both social and educational, are discussed when the Student Council meets under the able sponsorship of Mr. Robert Sharp.

The duties of this governing body, composed of home room prexies, lie in overcoming school difficulties and setting down rules as to the enforcement of their laws.

Their discussions, carried on in parliamentary procedure, prove educational and interesting.

Assembly programs and social affairs throughout the year are promoted by this group which, besides their regular duties, seeks to raise funds for the payment of many expenses incurred by the student body.

First Row: Miss Olive Bowman, Delores Plant, Shirley Banks, Bonnie Griffiths, Marilyn Ward, Phyllis Clayman, Bill King.

HI-CRIER

A nose for news, one of the characteristics of a good reporter, is not lacking among the members of the Hi-Crier Staff, patrolling the halls and classrooms in search of any scraps of news that might lead to a good story.

The journalism class, sponsored by Miss Olive Bowman, experienced a little difficulty due to fewer members this year. Nevertheless, they came through with flying colors, upholding the reputation of the Hi-Crier of thirteen years past.

SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

On the first and third Thursday of every month, sixty-four seniors with dramatic ambitions met under the sponsorship of Miss Valor Shurrager to learn correct diction, posture and stage appearance.

One of the major accomplishments of the group was a patriotic one-act play, "Land of the Free", given by several of the girls for the club.

The Club had the great privilege of hearing the distinguished Mr. Louis Lytton, actor and critic when he provided them a very enjoyable hour of dramatics during one of their bi-monthly meetings.

The final curtain was dropped on the scene of the Senior Dramatic Club of the class of '43 when the Senior play successfully ended the perfect setting made by all its members.

First Row: Marie Rossi, Mary Louise De Tallo, Marilyn James, Phyllis Bivi-ano, Pauline Marchese, Martha Jane Riley, Mickey Spizuoco, Norma McCali.

JUNIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

Future Hamlets and Macbeths of the Junior Class met the second and fourth Thursday of every month to increase their knowledge of dramatics under the sponsorship of Miss Valor Shurrager. Skits, pantomimes and pointers on correct stage procedure paved the way to the successful presentation of the Junior Play. "The Very Light Brigade", a three-act comedy. The club, together with the Senior Club, sponsored a matinee dance and met jointly to hear Mr. Louis Lytton, the famous actor and critic.

This organization has aided the Juniors of '43 to gain greater appreciation of acting.

First Row: Martha Jane Riley, Jeanne Sharkey, Dorothy Trimbur, Bernadette Sankey, Marjorie Lippy, Ruth Saylor, Charlotte Williams, Wm. King.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

The N. F. L. was founded in 1925 for the purpose of stimulating interest in speech activity. T. C. Bond, sponsor, and N C Davis, assistant, have devoted a great deal of their time in the past years in training students not only in debate, but also in humorous, dramatic, and oratorical declamation; extemporaneous speaking and original oratory.

Now the N. F. L., like every other organization, has had to change its plans because of the war. Gas rationing made fewer trips for debate and individual events possible. Not to be dismayed at this, Mr. Bond coached his speakers in original speeches which were given at school assemblies and before Service Clubs and Civic Clubs of both men and women. This is really better experience than mere tournaments.

We are proud of what the N. F. L. has done for our school and of the hard work undertaken to make this a successful organization.

First Row: Paul Banks, Josephine Shaker, Elaine Hogan, Marjorie Lippy, Martha Jane Riley, Bernadette Sankey, Dorothy Trimbur, Jeanne Sharkey.
Second Row: T. C. Bond, Mildred Frampton, Gloria Hibler, Douglas Evans, John Hallock, Ted Johnson, Dick Bond, Donald Brown.

THE DEBATE SQUAD

Adding to the widening fame of McKinley High School is the debate team, which is under the supervision of T. Craig Bond.

During the past year, these youthful Patrick Henry's have been trying to decide the fate of the country after this war. The question is, "Resolved, that a federal world government should be established." In class, they choose either affirmative or negative and then have practice debates. After a few weeks' practice, they go to interscholastic debates, in which incidently, Niles ranked very high, although there were only a few because of transportation difficulties.

All in all, the debate team has had a very exciting year and even though the seniors will leave the juniors to carry on, they will uphold the famous tradition of McKinley High to always rank high in debate.

LIBRARY

One of the busiest groups in McKinley is the Library Staff. This small handful of girls, fourteen in all, under the able supervision of Miss Beatrice Millard, have the uncanny ability to ferret out, at any time information on almost any subject which might be of interest to a high school pupil. Coupled with the job of choosing good books for students and faculty, this organization keeps on its toes every period, every day, to serve and save.

First Row: James Agues, John Stanec, Anna Taylor, Raymond Daley, Thomas Hitchings, Russell Samuels.

ART CLUB

Under the able supervision of Miss Anna Hunyady, the Art Club has forged ahead to be one of McKinley's most notable organizations. Its members, ranging from the Seventh to Twelfth Grades, portray with pastels and paints, scenes of beauty and patriotism. In this manner, they not only satisfy their thirst for art but receive valuable aids to further their ambitions.

Truly the Art Club adds more than just color to the McKinley curriculum.

First Row: Pauline Marchese, Eleanor Belcastro, Marie Rossi, Norma Macali, Mickey Spizuoco, Mary Julian.
Second Row: Anthony Salandra, George Harris, John Glay, Anthony Mariani, Vinton Mealy, Wayne Chambers.

Vice President . . . . DAN O'CONNELL
Secretary . . . . . MARY JULIAN

DRIVERS CLUB

Among the newer organizations of our school, the Drivers' Club, under the supervision of W. Z. Davis, for the past few years has had as its purpose, the enabling of McKinley students to become good, sound-minded drivers. Rules and laws governing good driving are studied until the members have acquired enough proficiency to pass the driver's test given them by officers of the State Highway Patrol.

This club is of much value to those people who wish to acquire the skill of operating an automobile.

Kay Wilson, Ted Johnson, Norma Jenkins, Joan Campfield.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE RESEARCH COMMITTEE

It is the duty of the Vocational Guidance Research Committee, composed of four seniors, to carry on extensive research and investigation for the betterment of the school as a whole.

Under the direction of Miss Mary Pater, this organization has undertaken two projects this year: one, a scrapbook for the national government, containing a survey of McKinley's contribution to defense; and the other, a survey of employment of the students of McKinley High, to show in what fields of employment the pupils are best adapted. Although few realize this committee exists, nevertheless they have quietly compiled valuable information.

BAND

The audience is hushed; a silver baton flashes upward — then, music as the band plays on! The Niles High School Band is at it again — once more their outstanding performance has won them great renown.

Football games, pep rallies, music programs and departures of service men are stimulated by the Band's appearance. Among the popular performances at gridiron clashes were the formation of an army airplane and a navy anchor. Special features honored all branches of our nation's defenders.

Proclaimed extremely successful, the Annual Mid-Winter Concert in February featured Dr. Frank Simon of Cincinnati, Ohio, one of the most outstanding band directors of the United States. It is interesting to note that all Niles and surrounding communities were represented at the presentation.

Our band, under the direction of Ellsworth Baldwin, has, without a doubt, brought much recognition to our school. We sincerely hope this organization will continue their excellent work in the future.

ORCHESTRA

Adding color and festivity to any engagement to which it may be called upon to participate, the Orchestra, under the skillful baton of Ellsworth Baldwin, proved itself a worthy asset to McKinley.

Appearing at the Junior and Senior plays, concerts, and various assemblies, this group made up of thirty-one musicians, always puts on a stirring performance.

VOCAL GROUPS

The soft blending of the voices of McKinley's Nelson Eddys, Lawrence Tibbetts, Lily Pons' and Jeannette MacDonalds float o'er the air every week when the vocal groups gather in the music room for many enjoyable hours of singing songs, old and new.

These well known musical organizations have contributed much to school functions. This year, for their main performance they presented the outstanding "Mid-Winter Vocal Concert." Novelty numbers, classical and popular renditions were included on the program.

Without doubt, director Margery Shields has been largely responsible for the success and accomplishments of this organization.

These vocalists well deserve the credit given them for their splendid efforts in helping to promote the music department of dear old McKinley High.

This year mentor Earl Hoker, with the able assistance of James Wiand and faculty manager, W. N. Halbedel, wound up a very successful season for the gridiron annals of 1942. With wins over Warren and Girard, their bitter foes, and the highly touted Mansfield Tigers, the Dragons were guided thru the season's frays undefeated after dropping the initial encounter to Chaney of Youngstown to the stinging count of 24 - 0. Immediately following this the boys were put thru some rugged drills with some pep and speed added. The coaching staff was not kidding, and the boys practiced from 3:30 to 7:00 every night. Showing that they really had teamwork the Dragons overcame the fighting Trojans of Canton Timken to a tune of 15-6. Two of the Dragon first team sat this one out, due to disciplinary measures taken by Hoker.

The Dragons did not stop, downing next the fast and very shifty team of the Irish from Ursuline. Next the chargers from Niles High raised the eyebrows of the sports commentators all over the state by traveling 115 miles to defeat Mansfield's highly rated team to a decisive 16 - 0 count. The Niles lads next proved themselves worthy of their rising fame by turning a withering attack on Youngstown South in the last quarter to snatch a 7 - 6 victory from the hands of Jupe Pluvius, who had a cold and muddy reception waiting in their honor. The Dragons journeyed to New Philadelphia next to corner the Quakers 40 - 6 for their fifth consecutive victory. The McKinley Gridders then traveled to Warren to take a hard-charging, tough-tackling contest from the Harding High Presidents 12 - 6. This was the highlight of the season, in that it refused Warren permanent possession of the Stein Trophy and placed it in the Niles trophy case for the first time. The Niles McKinley boys capitalized on stamina and power next to defeat the Steel City boys from Struthers 20 - 0 on a field buried in snow. The Dragons wound up their season by defeating an always threatening Girard team 12 - 7. Although swamped with tough breaks and penalties, the Dragons emerged victorious, not only for their eighth straight win, but also the holders of the Trumbull County Championship.

However, these were far from the only honors bestowed upon Hoker, Wiand and their boys. The Niles team placed at least seven players on every all-county selection, including four first-string berths awarded to Devarich, end; Kaszonyi, center; Evans, tackle; and Zorn, halfback. Hoker placed his second player in four years on the All-Ohio first team in Paul Zorn, stocky and powerful back. Doug Evans was given honorable mention in this same poll.

The fans are pleased, the coaches are pleased, and the boys themselves are pleased with their 1942 record. Thus, in the words of Honorary Captain, Anthony DePascal, "We were proud to be under the coaching of Mr. Earl Hoker and Mr. James Wiand", we close the book on the 1942 grid season.

SENIOR

JOHN KASZONYI—Superior center who did not know what a poor pass was. Vicious tackler and defensive line-backer, also receiving all-county honors.

LARRY CHANCE—Fast, shifty runner and good blocker whose experienced toe put Niles in many a scoring position. All-county honors.

BOB McELROY—An excellent ball handler on the business end of any pass or kick. All-county honors.

Left—

JOHN DEVARICH — Outstanding offensive and defensive player, star pass receiver. All-county honors.

DOUG EVANS — Two-year man serving on the strong side of the line. All-county and honorable mention All-state honors.

LEONARD SWANEY—All-county guard, fast charger and a competent blocker.

HOWARD WILLIAMS—Also all-county selection at guard. Excellent blocker and defensive player. Sustained the only severe injury of the season in a broken collar-bone.

GRIDDERS

ANTHONY DePASCAL—A power house of energy who could be counted on for yardage in tight spots. Elected Captain of his fellow team-mates and received all-county honors.

PAUL ZORN—Niles triple threat half-back whose dynamo of power and stamina, excellent pitching arm, and educated toe placed him upon the Varsity All-Ohio A. P. selection.

Right—

PAUL DeMONT—Fast and tricky back with more than his share of team spirit and stamina.

GEORGE JOHN—Lanky end whose contribution to the team's success cannot be overlooked.

RAY WALTERS—A quick-charging guard who could be counted on to give his all at any time.

NICK PSHNISHNIAK—Substitute guard who came through plenty of action. A tough man to put a block on.

THE FOOTBALL SEASON

When Niles played the Chaney team
Our boys felt sure to win,
But soon they lost their confidence
As Chaney's men came in.

The next game turned out better though.
The team began to fight.
The Canton squad tried very hard,
But could not win that night.

Thus through the season Niles went
Determined not to lose,
And when the Warren game came up,
We all knew whom to choose.

Successfully the boys went on
And sailed right through Girard.
We think they're great, that team of ours,
From fullback down to guard.

JOHN DEVARICH

BOB MacELROY

The McKinley Hi Cagers polished off their season this year with a none too creditable showing in the wins and losses column, stacking up two wins against seventeen losses. However, the success of a team must be considered in a broader light. It must be remembered that mentor Wiand's boys suffered acute attacks of "height-itis". In almost every fray the local bucket-shooters were out-distanced in height. Also, it must be remembered that our boys played their hardest every second of every fracas. In the long run, after all, that's what counts. Perhaps the most outstanding member of the team was Robert Holloway, who accounted for an overwhelming majority of the points accredited to McKinley this past season and who broke our High School scoring record. John Devarich, who was elected Honorary Captain by his teammates, served this year as center of the Dragon's squad. This lad displayed particular ability in obtaining the ball from the backboard.

Seniors on the team who distinguished themselves by their team spirit and the smooth and careful ball handling which has been a characteristic of our team are Bob McElroy, Russell Naples, Larry Chance, Paul Zorn, and Tony Donadio. Ralph Williams, a Junior, without much previous experience who added height to this year's team, will be back next year along with Frank Mangino, Arthur Rizzi, and Harold Orwig.

In spite of transportation difficulties, the Reserves played a full schedule. This experience should help them to perform next year according to the promise they have shown. The following Sophomores will be back next year, W. Trimbur, M. Woodford, E. Puhak, H. Steele, L. Pela, W. Vaughn, W. Biddlestone, R. Mayer, and J. Doran.

R. Fawcett, Junior, who completed his second year as manager, will be back again next year.

CHEERLEADERS

Fight, Team, Fight!

Many's the time the McKinley High Cheerleaders echoed this cry throughout the stadium during the football season and likewise at every basketball game. Cheering and praising our team on to victory, this lively pep squad was always on its toes and was forever initiating new ideas into the cheering routine. Credit is due the pep squad for keeping up the morale of the team as well as the Niles fans. Their's was quite a task, and win or lose they were on hand with smiles and plenty of pep.

First Row: Rosemarie Sullivan, Clara Boser, Jean Evans, Dorothy Burns, Catherine King.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

You will note by the above picture that the sports world of McKinley is not entirely made up of brawny masculines.

The Girls' Athletic Association, sponsored by Miss Mary Pater, gives the fairer sex a chance to be in the spotlight on the stage of sports. In this club the girls drop their dignity to don shorts and show their ability in such sports as baseball, basketball, swimming, badminton and volleyball. The goal most of the members strive for is to obtain a varsity or flying "N", both earned by outstanding participation in sports.

Fair play and co-operation are highly stressed in all the activities of the Girls' Athletic Association.

HIGH SCHOOL VICTORY CORPS

If Adolph Hitler were able to gaze into the high schools of our country a few more gray hairs would be added to his mighty collection, due to the Victory Corps, a national voluntary organization for secondary schools, designed to mobilize school students for more effective preparation for and participation in wartime service.

Probably the most frequent question asked is, "Why organize a Victory Corps in high schools?" There are three definite answers to this question: First, there is a war to be won. Let us remember what happens to the youth when the Nazi slave drivers are in a position to crack the whip and consider the 3,000,000 youngsters from the Balkan States who have been rounded up for compulsory labor service in Germany. Second, the high schools are a potential source of trained manpower. The War Manpower Commission hopes to have eventually as many as 10,000,000 men under arms, and this means that the majority of the boys of 16 and 17 years, now in high schools must be prepared for military occupations. Third, the high schools should prepare our youth for war production and essential community services.

This is exactly what McKinley High School, along with many others in the United States, is doing.

McKinley High School offers the following pre-induction courses: Preflight, a special course for the preliminary training of prospective aviation cadets and ground crew maintenance men; pre-mathematics, basic training necessary for successful entry into war occupations; pre-shop, the development of the youth in constructing essential war materials; first-aid courses—3 classes of girls and one class of boys, which are conducted by Red Cross First Aid instructors in a 20-hour course; home nursing, excellent training for future nurses who are in constant demand; and military drill, basic training taken from the fundamental requirements of the United States Army.

With such preparedness of our youth, the hoped-for Victory is inevitable. It can well be said that among Shicklegruber's worst enemies are the many divisions of the Victory Corps, being established by youth all over America.

To the Reader:

This is the end of the annual. It stands or falls now according to your opinion if it. We have done our best within the limits of our experience and our time. All that remains to do is for me as sponsor to give credit where credit is due.

Norma Jenkins and Josephine Shaker were co-editors. They spent many hours planning the annual and many more hours at the long and tedious work of putting its parts together. Josephine and Norma did the job; they pasted and cut; they counted words and ruled off spaces in the dummy; they conferred with the printer, the binder, and the members of the staff; they wrote and rewrote and read copy; they moved furniture and ran errands; they did all this with tactful efficiency; the rest of us were their helpers.

Among those who helped to build the annual, Dick Bond, Doug Evans, Phyllis Bartel, Eunice Rounds, Joan Morris, Vivian Werden, Gladys Raynes, Anthony Salandra, Lucy Shing, Mildred Frampton, and Margaret Seaball did stalwart and loyal service as writers, thinkers, advisors, as finders of the name of that boy in the last row who quit school just after the picture was taken, and as errand runners and furniture movers.

Catherine Ann Wilson, Joan Campfield and Ruth Saylor composed the business staff, and with the assistance of other members of our staff and of the Homeroom Treasurers, they did an efficient job. They also served as advisors, typists, writers and errand runners.

Others of the annual staff who cheerfully did what they could but were limited by time and other activities and unable to give all their efforts to the work of name-finding, writing and errand-running were Margaret Seitz, Bertha Schuller, Rose Marie Sullivan, Margaret Walters, Ruth Sheets, Verna Sipe, and Lucille Infante.

Many persons who were not members of the staff helped us in various ways. Anthony Natole did our art work. Many of you saw Dick Bonham carrying the sandwich board through the halls, but few of you saw him or the others from the Fifth Period Study Hall or from my Fourth Period Class as day after day they carried benches up and down the Annex stairs or helped move the furniture in Room 41. Charles Trimbur and Bob DeJute set up the lighting system and hung the backdrop for the pictures with the welcome help of Mr. Strock and Mr. Tiefel. At one time or another all of the members of the stage crew helped to take down or rehang the back drop. Mr. Wiand fixed the camera after I dropped it. Lastly, if you ever appeared in Room 41 and did not become an errand runner for the annual (we seem to have a great many errands), I think it can be safely said that you were one of a fortunate few.

The annual staff wishes to thank the faculty for its co-operation, particularly the sponsors of activities, who furnished us with the material of the annual; Mr. Jones, who took and spent and saved our money; and Miss Bowman and her staff, who helped us advertise. Needless to say, there is one other person without whose constant help and encouragement the above-mentioned furniture moving, drape hanging, writing, advising, pasting, cutting, planning, drawing and errand running would have been dull indeed—our thanks to Mr. Sharp.

In conclusion, I wish to mention the photographers.

Sincerely,

N C DAVIS.

P. S. The photographers, who are also writers and advisors, admit readily enough that it is my business if I wish to be a base ingrate and say nothing of the long hours they have spent in semi-darkness, with their hands in smelly solutions or cold water, at the tedious work of keeping the prints moving; but they insist that I give them credit as furniture movers and errand runners.

With the exception of P. T. Alfonsi's photographs of the Band, the Orchestra and the members of the Senior Class, the photographs in this book were taken, developed and printed by Irvin Johnson, Ted Johnson and Fred Fisher.
